Inspired by the vibrant brass bands and the rich, colorful costuming of the locals, Hotel Indigo New Orleans - French Quarter invites guests to become a part of that lively atmosphere. Situated in the Central Business District along the St. Charles streetcar line, the hotel caters to the needs of business and leisure travelers. This newly renovated, pet-friendly establishment, originally constructed in 1837, seamlessly blends tradition with modernity. Boasting 143 artfully designed guestrooms, including nine with balconies that offer picturesque views of St. Charles and Common, the hotel welcomes visitors to an oasis in downtown New Orleans. Guests can savor Cajun cuisine at the on-site restaurant, Common Interest, and enjoy close proximity to renowned venues such as Orpheum Theater, House of Blues, the Fillmore, Caesar's Superdome, and Smoothie King Center.
